Pádraig Rynne

Biog

Described as “one of the freshest sounds in Irish music” by fRoots magazine, Padraig Rynne is a virtuoso musician, prolific composer and is regarded as one of the finest concertina players in Irish music today.

With an MA in Music technology and a passion for experimenting with diverse genres, Padraig is recognised for his refreshing explorations into the Irish Tradition and beyond.

His band work includes, founder and former member of Irish/Breton band Guidewires and groundbreaking Jazz/World music band NOTIFY.

Rynne has curated a number of high profile ensembles and tours including Irish Arts Council funded projects Dán, Atlantic I/O and NOTIFY + Pauline Scanlon. Currently Rynne tours with Triad (Pádraig Rynne, Dónal Lunny & Sylvain Barou) and Atlantic Arc - a combination of Irish, Scottish, English and Breton musicians.

Pádraig has featured on over thirty albums and has made many TV appearances. He was a featured musician on the Soundtrack to recent successful BBC movie - “The last dance”. He works very regularly with other artists and recently was commissioned to write the music for the opening of TG4 XX celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the channel. He is a member of award winning electronic band Aeons and co writes with many artists from a number of different genres.
